

Database On Trial: NetLibrary eBook Collection (04/11/2005)

E-books, as e-journals, are useful resources that have the main advantages of online access, powerful searchability, simultaneous browsing by more than one reader, and saving of shelving space. Therefore, the Library has planned to gradually add e-book titles that are relevant to our teaching and research activities to its collection. In this connection, we are now pleased to announce the following e-book collection that we have recently secured trial rights for members of the university community.

NetLibrary eBook Collection -- It provides access to about twelve thousand digitized books and spans critical subject areas ranging from technology and science to business, and more. It also offers access to the eContent collection. The eContent is the digital version of books, journals, and database content. However, please note that the Chinese Language Magazines - Demo database is not available on this trial. Kindly note that the accounts for trial access are as follows:

Username: Macau86 Password: gekAC5

Username: Macau71 Password: Swu8u7

Username: Macau33 Password: SpudR6

You are cordially invited to try out this e-book collection via the campus network by using the link provided in "Trial Databases" at our website or directly accessing its website at <http://www.netlibrary.com> until 21st November 2005.

Please kindly give us your comments on this online database on trial at lib_ref@umac.mo.

Regards,
UM International Library
